

NEW HORIZONS IN ENGLISH STUDIES

7 / 2022

Contents

LANGUAGE & DIDACTICS

Aleksandra Iwaneczko

Specificity of Teaching Vocabulary to Primary School Students with Asperger's Syndrome in ELT: Case Studies 3

Chaima Bekki

Supervisees' Perceptions of the Supervision Process: Case study of Master 2 Students of English Language Department at Ibn Khaldoun University of Tiaret, Algeria 18

LITERATURE

Oliver J Hancock

Postmodernist Fictions of Girlhood: "Child-Drag" in The Stain and Blood and Guts in High School 32

Dorota Osińska

Mothers and Daughters: An Exploratory Look into Dora Greenwell's Revisions of Persephone 45

Aurelija Daukšaitė-Kolpakovienė

Individual Traumas in Christy Lefteri's The Beekeeper of Aleppo 59

Julia Kula

"I am Alone in the Dark, Turning the World Around in my Head" – Space-Time Creation in Paul Auster's Man in the Dark 73

CULTURE & MEDIA

Celeste Lacroix, Robert Westerfelhaus

An Emerging New American Mythos: Post-Apocalyptic Narratives as Expressions of Rupture, Rage, Resignation, and Regret 87

Michael Fuchs

“I don’t need your help! I’m a scientist!” Biotechnology, Digital Visual Effects, and (the Lack of) Human Control of Life in Zoo 101

Hanne Nijtmans

Complicit in the Murder Program: Podcasting Dystopia in The Intercept’s Evening at the Talk House (2018) 116

Rayna K. Morel, Colby Y. Miyose

In Love With Cancer: Netflix Portrayals of the Cancer Experience 131

Maria Borsuk

Interior Britishness – The Taste and Class in The Great Interior Design Challenge 153

Nick Redfern

Genre, Narrative, and (Mis)remembering the Vietnam War in Jacob’s Ladder (1990) 166